Admin Guide to Lineup Manager

Oct 18, 2026 · Jeffrey Haid

This guide is for club admins. It covers everything on the Admin page — the girls/boys setting, teams, inviting and managing coaches — plus roles, permissions and troubleshooting. For day-to-day lineup work (rosters, availability, lineups, scores), see the Coaches Guide; admins can do all of that on every team.

Admins and coaches

- A club is your organization in Lineup Manager. Each club has any number of teams, and everyone in the club is either an Admin or a Coach.
- Admins can see and edit every team in the club, create teams, rename teams, invite people, assign coaches to teams, change anyone's role, remove members, and set whether the club is girls or boys. Admins are the only people who see the Admin page.
- Coaches only see the teams they've been assigned to. On those teams they can do all the game-day work — roster, availability, lineups, scores, tournaments, seasons, stats — and change the team's color and type. They can't rename a team, manage coaches or open the Admin page.
- Admins are normally coaches too. Because an admin can open any team, there's no need to assign yourself to a team to work in it.

Finding the Admin page

- Click Admin in the bar at the top of any page, or Manage club on your dashboard ("Your teams"). If you belong to more than one club, make sure the right club is selected first — your club's name at the top of the page is a dropdown for switching.
- The page has three sections: Club (girls or boys), Teams, and Club members. The links to the two admin guides are at the top of the page.

Setting up a new club

- A new club is created by the Lineup Manager team, who send the club's first admin an email invitation. Open it, click the link, and create an account (or sign in).
- The first time the club is opened, you're asked whether it's a Girls club or a Boys club. Until an admin answers, coaches who sign in see a message that setup isn't finished yet and no teams appear.
- After that, create your teams, then invite your coaches and (optionally) additional admins — the sections below.

Girls or boys club

- A club is either girls or boys lacrosse, and the choice applies to every team in the club. It decides the starting lineup for a regular Field game: a girls club starts 12 (4 attack, 3 midfield, 4 defense, 1 goalie); a boys club starts 10 (3 attack, 3 midfield, 3 defense, 1 goalie). Sixes and Sevens games are the same for both.
- To change it, open the Admin page and click Girls club or Boys club under Club. The current choice is shaded.
- Changing it after lineups have been built means those Field-game lineups won't carry over to the new set of slots. They aren't deleted — they reappear if you switch back — but coaches will need to rebuild lineups for upcoming Field games. Pick carefully, ideally once at the start.

Creating and managing teams

- Under Teams on the Admin page, enter a Team name, choose a Theme (Red, Orange, Navy, Silver or Green) and a Team type, and click Create team. The team appears in the list with a color swatch and its type.
- Team type is Travel or Rec. It controls which Experience choices coaches see on the roster: a Travel team gets A/B/C squad levels; a Rec team gets Travel/Rec/New. Changing the type later never changes a player's already-saved Experience.
- Click Settings → next to a team to open its Settings tab. Admins can edit the Team name there; the color and type can be changed by any coach on the team; the Coaches section is where coaches are added and removed; Export data downloads the roster and stats as CSV or XLSX.

- Admins can open any team from the dashboard to add players, import a roster CSV or help build lineups — see the Coaches Guide.

Inviting coaches and admins

- Under Club members, use the invite form: enter the person's email, optionally pick a team under Assign to team, choose the Role (Coach or Admin), and click Send invite.
- The person gets an email with a link. They create an account (or sign in) and are taken into the app. The invitation is tied to the email address you typed, so tell them to use that same address.
- If you picked a team, they're assigned to it automatically as soon as they accept — no extra step. If you didn't, assign them later from the team's Settings (see Assigning coaches to teams). Until a coach is assigned to a team, they see "You haven't been assigned to a team yet."
- The invite form assigns one team. To put a coach on more than one team, assign the additional teams from each team's Settings after they've joined.
- Invite someone as Admin only if they need to manage the club. Everyone else should be a Coach.

Pending invitations

- Invitations that haven't been accepted appear in a dashed box under the member list, labelled "invited, pending."
- Resend sends the invitation email again to the same address with the same role. It replaces the pending invitation with a fresh one, so the link in the earlier email stops working and the new email's link is the one to use. Any team you chose when you first invited the person is kept.
- Revoke cancels the invitation; the link in the email stops working. If you typed the wrong address, Revoke it and send a new invite to the right one.
- If a coach says the email never arrived, ask them to check spam/junk, then use Resend.

Managing members and roles

- The Club members list shows each person's name, email and role badge (Admin or Coach).
- Make admin promotes a coach to club admin; Remove admin turns an admin back into a coach. The change applies right away.
- Remove takes someone out of the club entirely. They lose access to every team in the club and their team assignments are cleared. To bring them back, send a new invitation.
- You can't change your own role or remove yourself. For that reason, keep at least two admins so the club is never without one.

Assigning coaches to teams

- Open the team (Settings → on the Admin page, or the team's Settings tab) and scroll to Coaches.
- The section lists the coaches already on the team. To add one, choose a club member under Add a club member as coach and add them. They can see the team the next time they load the app.
- To take someone off a team, remove them from that list. This only ends their access to that team — they stay in the club and keep any other teams. (To remove them from the club, use Remove on the Admin page.)
- These changes appear in each team's Activity log.

Practice plans (premium feature)

- Practices is an optional feature that is switched on per club by the Lineup Manager team — admins can't turn it on themselves. Contact them to enable it for your club.
- Once enabled, every team in the club gets a Practices tab (between Games and Stats) where coaches and admins build practice plans from drills, save templates, keep a drill library, tag plans, print a practice sheet and read plans offline. See the Coaches Guide for how coaches use it.

Using the app on phones and at the field

- The Getting started link at the top of the page has the install card: on iPhone, open the site in Safari, tap Share, then Add to Home Screen; on Android or Chrome, tap Install app. Encourage your coaches to do this.
- The app keeps an offline copy of each team's upcoming games on a coach's phone, so game-day lineups can be read with no signal. Coaches should open their team and tap Save now before heading to a field with weak service. See the Coaches Guide.

Quick reference

A coach says they can't see any teams? Confirm they accepted the invitation and are assigned to a team (team Settings → Coaches). If they were invited without a team, assign one now.

A coach never got the invite email? Ask them to check spam/junk, then press Resend next to the pending invitation. If the address was wrong, Revoke it and invite the right one.

The coach signed up with a different email than the one invited? Their team assignment may not apply. Assign them to the team from team Settings, or Revoke and re-invite using the address they actually use.

Can't change your own role or remove yourself? That's intentional — ask another admin to do it.

Need to put a coach on a second team? Open that team's Settings and use Add a club member as coach.

Removed someone by mistake? Send them a new invitation (and pick their team again).

Coaches can't rename a team? Only admins can edit the team name, from the team's Settings tab. Coaches can change the color and type.

Chose the wrong girls/boys setting? Click the other option under Club on the Admin page. Existing Field lineups are kept but hidden until you switch back, so rebuild lineups for upcoming games.

Coaches don't see a Practices tab? It's a premium feature enabled per club by the Lineup Manager team — contact them to turn it on.

Belong to more than one club and not seeing the Admin link? Make sure the right club is selected using the club name at the top of the page; you're an admin of each club separately.

Coaches see "setup isn't finished"? A club admin hasn't yet chosen Girls or Boys. Sign in as an admin and answer the prompt.
